5. [redacted] Stuart P. French, Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, called about the travel of Moose and Lowenstein, Foreign Relations Committee staff, to Greece. French said Defense has also received a letter from Chairman Fulbright asking for Defense's cooperation on this trip. French said he understood the Agency had briefed Moose and Lowenstein and was interested in any information we could give him about the purposes of their travel. Mr. Maury talked with French about our briefing and told him what he knew about the trip.

6. [redacted] Met with Mr. Ralph Preston, House Appropriations Committee staff, who told me that the Committee membership of 31 Democrats and 20 Republicans could remain relatively unchanged for the coming session of Congress. In any event, changes in the Democrat/Republican makeup should not affect either the Defense Subcommittee or the handling of Agency matters. I briefed Mr. Preston [redacted]

7. [redacted] In response to his call, I met with Senator Jack Miller (R., Iowa) who asked if I could give him a reading on the Inter-American Social Development Institute that was established last summer. Senator Miller has a lifelong acquaintance with unusual qualifications that the Senator would like to recommend to the Institute. After checking with [redacted] WH Division, I told the Senator that the Agency has no association with the Institute (that we have stayed away from such activities since the Katzenbach recommendations were adopted by the White House some four years ago) and gave him the names of Mr. Irving Tragen, State Department, who is Chairman of the Institute, and Mr. George Lodge, the Executive Director. Senator Miller was most appreciative.

25X1A

Following our discussion of the Greek scene, I asked Moose and Lowenstein if they were aware of Senator Case's plan to introduce legislation affecting Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty. They said they were, and Lowenstein went on to express complete sympathy with Case's purposes. Lowenstein did not accept my contention that our Radios were performing a useful role, and was especially critical of what he termed the "dishonesty" of issuing public appeals for funds when in fact the bulk of the expenses of these projects was being borne by the American taxpayers.

1. [REDACTED] Talked to Mr. Ralph Preston, House Appropriations Committee Staff, who told me that Chairman Mahon will be in Europe during the recess. Mrs. Mahon and a Department of the Army escort officer are travelling with him. Preston does not expect that the Chairman will make any contact with CIA stations or personnel. He told me also that he plans to leave early in the morning on a ten-day investigative trip for the Committee visiting various installations on the west coast.

2. [REDACTED] Talked with Frank Slatinshek, Acting Chief Counsel, House Armed Services Committee, and thanked him for his efforts in getting our retirement bill through the House and getting Representative Philbin to make the floor statement and sign the letter to the Civil Service Commission on the subject of the transfer of Government contributions to our Retirement Fund. I also explained to Slatinshek some of the background on how this issue with the CSC came up. He seemed to understand completely and added that he had been surprised that we had been able to "wring out of the Civil Service Commission" any of this money in view of Andy Ruddock's concern and protective attitude about the deficiency in the fund.

3. [REDACTED] Talked with John Monahan, on the staff of Speaker John McCormack, about making arrangements to brief Mr. McCormack from time to time. Monahan was aware that we would be making some arrangement and said he would have Mr. McCormack call me in the next few days.
